¹This table reflects the 48,105 cases sentenced subsequent to the U.S. v. Booker decision on January 12, 2005, with court documentation cumulatively received, coded, and edited at the U.S. Sentencing Commission by November 1, 2005. Of this total, there are 1,635 cases excluded for one of two general reasons. Some excluded cases involve certain Class A misdemeanors or other offenses which do not reference a sentencing guideline. Other excluded cases have information missing from the submitted documents that prevents the comparison of the sentence and the guideline range. As missing documents are received, subsequent U.S. Sentencing Commission data releases will incorporate the new information.

²All cases with imposed sentences outside of the guideline range and citing reasons for departure limited to, and affirmatively and specifically identified in the provisions, policy statements, or commentary of the federal Guidelines Manual.

³All cases with imposed sentences outside of the guideline range citing reasons for departure limited to, and affirmatively and specifically identified in the provisions, policy statements, or commentary of the federal Guidelines Manual, and additionally mentioning either U.S. v. Booker, 18 U.S.C. § 3553, or related factors as a reason for a sentence outside of the guideline range.

⁴All cases with imposed sentences outside of the guideline range mentioning only U.S. v. Booker, 18 U.S.C. § 3553, or related factors as a reason for a sentence outside of the guideline range.

⁵Cases with imposed sentences outside of the guideline range that do not fall into the three previous categories. Based on the information submitted on the Statement of Reasons, these cases cannot be classified as a guideline departure, or as a sentence outside the guideline range pursuant to Booker/18 U.S.C. § 3553. This category includes cases which cite departure reasons that are not affirmatively and specifically identified in the provisions, policy statements, or commentary of the federal Guidelines Manual and cases which do not provide any reason for the sentence outside of the guideline range.

¹In 2003, the Commission augmented its data coding procedures to determine the proportion of non-substantial assistance downward departures that were initiated by the government. Data prior to 2003 does not distinguish non-substantial assistance government initiated downward departures from other downward departures. In this table, data from FY2000, 2001, and 2002 on “Other Downward Departures” includes both government initiated and non-government initiated downward departures. For FY2003, the “Other Downward Departures” data distinguishes departures that were initiated or supported by the government from those not initiated/supported by the government. For example, using the national data, 6.3% of downward departures were government initiated and 7.5% were other downward departures; the combination of these values (13.8%) is directly comparable to the data for “Other Downward Departures” from the preceding years. For FY2005, this table reflects cases sentenced subsequent to the US v Booker decision on January 12, 2005, with court documentation cumulatively received, coded, and edited at the U.S. Sentencing Commission by November 1, 2005. In these cases, a further distinction is made among below guideline range sentences. The data report three categories of below range sentences: those initiated/supported by the government; those not initiated by the government and citing reasons for departure limited to, and affirmatively and specifically identified in the provisions, policy statements, or commentary of the federal Guidelines Manual; and those mentioning only U.S. v. Booker, 18 U.S.C. § 3553, or related factors as a reason for a sentence outside of the guideline range. Cases citing both reasons for departure limited to, and affirmatively and specifically identified in the provisions, policy statements, or commentary of the federal Guidelines Manual and mentioning U.S. v. Booker, 18 U.S.C. § 3553, or related factors are included in the “Other Downward Departures” category.

²Includes cases with imposed sentences outside of the guideline range and citing reasons for departure limited to, and affirmatively and specifically identified in the provisions, policy statements, or commentary of the federal Guidelines Manual and all cases with imposed sentences outside of the guideline range citing reasons for departure limited to, and affirmatively and specifically identified in the provisions, policy statements, or commentary of the federal Guidelines Manual, and additionally mentioning either U.S. v. Booker, 18 U.S.C. § 3553, or related factors as a reason for a sentence outside of the guideline range.

³Includes cases with imposed sentences outside of the guideline range mentioning only U.S. v. Booker, 18 U.S.C. § 3553, or related factors as a reason for a sentence outside of the guideline range and all cases with imposed sentences outside of the guideline range that do not fall into the previous category. This category includes cases which cite departure reasons that are not affirmatively and specifically identified in the provisions, policy statements, or commentary of the federal Guidelines Manual and cases which do not provide any reason for the sentence outside of the guideline range.

⁴Cases with a reason for departure indicating that the prosecution initiates, proposes, or stipulates to a sentence outside of the guideline range, either pursuant to a plea agreement or as part of a non-plea negotiation with the defendant. Note that §5K3.1 (Early Disposition Program) cases are included in this category.

⁵Includes cases in which the below range sentence was initiated/supported by the government and those not initiated/supported by the government. Prior to FY2003, the Commission did not code this distinction.
